Thinks Teddy Will Be It.

That his observations throughout his travels in the middle west has convinced him that Roosevelt will stand a big chance of getting the republican nomination on the first ballot at the convention in June was the statement made by Dr. Francis W. Shephardson of the department of history, University of Chicago, who was in the city for an hour last evening between trains. He thinks, if Roosevelt does not win on the first ballot, that there will probably be a long ballot with a final compromise upon some such man as Senator Borah. He says Root is the eastern candidate but that the middle west and west will not stand for him.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

The regular monthly missionary meeting of the Baptist Ladies Circle was held at the home of Mrs. Will McCormmach yesterday. Mesdames Will McCormmach, Walter McCormmach, Mary Harvey and J. L. Dunn were hostesses to about forty-five ladies.

A short business session was held with Acting President Mrs. E. W. Myers as chairman, in the absence of President Mrs. Gideon Brown. Several new points for further efficiency were briefly discussed and adopted by the circle. Report was made that the appointments for Women's Baptist Home and Foreign Missions for the missionary year, ending with March, had been fully met. After retrospective comments on the successful carrying out of the missionary calendar for last year, the program committee was informed that they were retained to prepare the calendar for the new year, beginning with April.

The following program was then carried out on the subject, "The Philippines," Topic, "The Wonder Year—1898—and America's Part in the Surprise," by Mrs. Parnish.

Mrs. A. F. May discussed "The Islands as to Location, Size, Climate, Resources and People," a map exercise.

"The Land Question and Feudal System," was presented by Mrs. Serrell.

"Missions in the Philippines," was discussed by Mrs. Earl Gregg.

"Schools—(1) Industrial Schools at Jaro; (2) Women's and Girls Schools; (3) Home School for Little Tots," was the three-fold topic of Mrs. Geiss.

(1) "Medical Missions; (2) Bible School and Mission Press at Iloilo; and (3) Government Services in Education," was the three-fold topic of Mrs. Morris.

This most instructive program was made exceptionally interesting by those taking part. Mrs. Ewald Otto wife of Rev. Otto of Helix, and student from Cincinnati College of Music, then favored the ladies with two beautiful piano solos. The social hour was delightful and flavored with delicious refreshments.

HOW ABOUT IT?

(By Dr. E. B. Haslop, Pendleton, Or., Osteopath, Judd Building.)

Constipation is like a man carrying a load on his head, a pack on his back and a burden on his hips. The Osteopath can remove them. With change in diet, such as eating whole wheat or graham bread, addition of fruits, drinking plenty of water between meals, spending sufficient time chewing the food, together with the manipulation of the Osteopath, you can be sure of results.—Adv.

Let Us Dress-Up Your Table

CALL and see the beautifully dressed dining table in the front of our store. Note the many articles that go toward creating refinement and love of home in the child as well as giving pleasure to the parents because of their beauty combined with utility.

The dearest associations of the home grow up around the table where the family is gathered regularly with one mind to a pleasant occupation and happy intercourse. Memory carries us fondly back to those holiday feasts at mother's, and this sentiment is fostered, if some of the utensils from which she dispensed her hospitality are upon our table, such as silverware, cut-glass chinaware, etc.

Children brought up in a household where association with works of art and a nicely dressed table brings familiarity always bear the marks of taste—cultivated naturally. Where elegance is in tune with reason—where the useful is the beautiful—they are early endowed with a poise and a culture that no finishing school or college course can impart, and later, in the possession of worthy silver, china or cut-glass, they have upon their tables property which is not only an index of the culture and position of their parents (itself reflected upon them) but which is also a sure provision against the accidents of fortune.

We would be pleased to show you the new designs, now so popular in tableware of every kind.

Does Newspaper Advertising Pay?

A large paint manufacturer asked this question of retailers throughout the country:

NO. 4 SAID:

"We have always regarded the problem of advertising as a big one, and one worthy of our most careful attention. In our opinion much of the money spent in newspaper advertising is highly profitable, while much more of it is entirely wasted, depending upon the thought and care used in preparing the copy.

"We began with some products just two years ago, and we are now selling as much or more paint and varnish than any other store here. We question very much whether this would have been possible without the advertising in our local papers."
